

NO ASSURANCES OF FREIGHT FOR GREAT NORTHERN

owing to the fact that the season is virtually over.

Mr. Ivers asked Mr. Stone if the Great Northern would go to both the Crockett and Western rederies. "We'll go wherever the other boats go," answered Stone, and in response to another question said he expected that his company would make the same rates as other steamship companies.

"Do you intend to go to Hilo?" Mr. Stone was asked by E. H. Wodehouse of Davies & Company.

Mr. Stone replied that this was not the intention at the present time and was told by Mr. Wodehouse that the sugar which his company handled was sent out direct from Hilo to the coast.

Fred L. Waldron rose and suggested representatives of the sugar interests talk the matter over with Mr. Stone some time later in the day, and tell him definitely what could be done in the matter of rates.

"Mr. Stone is going to leave this evening," said Mr. Waldron, "and I should like to take him out to see some of the island today if possible."

Definite Action Urged.
Mr. Peck again urged the fact that his committee was heart and soul in the matter of getting the Great Northern to come here. "We should leave no stone unturned," he punned innocently.

It was at this time that Mr. Withington offered his motion. The motion was urged by L. A. Thurston. "I am not a member of the committee of 15," said Mr. Thurston, "but I think the question is a vital one for Hawaii, and with all my strength I back Mr. Withington's motion."

"What we want to do is to get down to brass tacks on this subject, and get something done. I do not doubt," continued Mr. Thurston enthusiastically, "that if a hat was passed around the community this amount of money necessary toward bringing the Great Northern here could be secured."

Mr. Stone rose at once. "Neither the Great Northern, Northern Pacific nor Burlington lines is asking any community to pass the hat," he said. "I see what you mean, Mr. Thurston, but just the same we aren't asking for a collection."

Mr. Peck suggested that the heads of local firms now on the coast, representing the sugar interests in Hawaii, should be called and asked to take up the matter of freight for the Great Northern.

W. J. McInerney called attention to the fact that the Great Northern people were offering to spend $50,000 in advertising Hawaii, which amount, he said, was greater than the Promotion Committee had spent in four years. "I do not think it is too much to bring this side of the question before the sugar people," he said.

Mr. Ivers again repeated his statement about the scarcity of sugar. "I do not see what more I can say," he said. "Our managers are on the coast. It is inconceivable, however, to think that any deliberate boycott in freight could be carried on against such a proposition."

The upshot of the meeting was that nothing materialized in the way of freight for the Great Northern. Among those present were: L. Tennyson, Jock, John Wodehouse, F. W. Klebahn, George Bodiek, F. W. Macfarlane, Richard Ivers, Alfred Castle, W. H. McInerney, C. C. von Hamm, C. R. Heenan, F. J. Lowrey, William Lanz, T. H. Petrie, D. L. Withington, E. A. Berndt, F. C. Atherton, W. F. Frear, W. F. Dillingham, Lorrin Thurston, E. H. Wodehouse, J. D. Dole and George W. Smith. Several of these are members of the committee of 15, others were the sugar men asked to meet Stone.

COMMITTEE OF 15 ASKS SUGAR MEN TO DISCUSS GREAT NORTHERN FREIGHT

The question of offering the Great Northern direct inducements to come to Honolulu was passed up to the sugar men yesterday. By a suggestion from F. J. Lowrey, the committee of 15 from the Chamber of Commerce having listened to a general summary from Cal E. Stone, pertaining to the plans of the company for sending the ship here, decided to ask the heads of sugar concerns in Honolulu to meet Mr. Stone this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Stone reiterated the statement yesterday that he had received no direct assurances in freight of any kind from anybody. His speech to the committee took the form of a talk in which he outlined the schedule of the boat should it come here, and told of a $50,000 advertising campaign which would be waged in the next six months for Hawaii should the company decide to place the boat on the run.

Fares would be first and second class, he said, and would run from $40 to $100, depending upon the special class of rooms desired. Mr. Stone said that he believed the boat would help the business of other companies running to Honolulu rather than hurt it.

He said that the hauling of bananas would not be a great inducement to the company. He said they had at present none of the so-called ventilated decks for handling such fruit, but that if the need called for it the decks could probably be furnished on the boat.

Professor Thomas Edward Oliver, of the University of Illinois, sailed on the American liner Philadelphia to take charge as a delegate of the American Commission of Relief in Belgium.

FORT DE RUSSY WILL BE BEAUTY SPOT ON BEACH

Officers Quarters and Barracks
Will Be Constructed in Handsome Setting

Decided improvements in the grouping of officers' quarters and new barracks at Fort De Russy, so that each of the eight structures, both houses and barracks, will have an ocean view and will be beautified by trees, shrubbery and lawns, are included in the plans of the quartermaster's department concerning the two new barracks to be erected at the fort this fall, as announced recently in an exclusive Star-Bulletin story.

At the present time, a detachment of men from the fort is busy setting location stakes to indicate the future location of officers' quarters and barracks. Bids on the construction of barracks are to be advertised for in a week or 10 days, and the work of moving the quarters will be started as soon as the contract is let.

At the present time, Lieut. Col. B. P. Chatham, Quartermaster Corps, announced today, the fort's buildings are grouped along the military road leading past the fort in a semi-circular manner. The plans approved and to be carried out call for the relocation of that end of the road at the Ewa end of the fort, to make it a letter S instead of semi-circular.

When this is accomplished, each house, when moved to its new location, will have an unobstructed ocean view, something some of the houses do not now possess. A curve facing the beach, with a grouping of trees and shrubs in the center, making a miniature park, is the general scheme of landscape gardening, which, when finished, will make the grounds more attractive both to officers and their families and to the enlisted men.

REIGN OF TERROR BROUGHT TO END BY PISTOL SHOT

near the Y. M. C. A. building, instead of being consigned to jail he was allowed out on bond and today's tragedy has resulted, as Fuji and the police prophesied.

"Nakashima had been warned by Judge Monaghan not to date, to approach my premises while his wife worked there. I had him arrested during the summer for trespassing."

"When Fuji came back from Wahiawa I was warned not to reemploy her because of the practical certainty of Nakashima's making trouble for her. Then I tried to get her in the Salvation Army Home, but they were afraid to give her a refuge, and recommended that I try the Susanab Wesley Home. The reply was the same at the latter institution, and a Japanese minister also said that he was afraid to aid or shelter the woman."

"We were eager to help Fuji and intended to get her a place to work on one of the other islands. Fulling to find her a refuge here, she went to a Japanese hotel, where Nakashima evidently located her and forced her to go to his house."

The shooting occurred at 8:30 o'clock this morning, the body of Nakashima having been dead about 30 minutes when Dr. R. G. Ayer arrived at the house. One bullet had penetrated the lower tissues of the woman's jaw and come out at the angle of the jaw. A second bullet had pierced the back of her left hand and passed through at an angle, leaving a painful wound which may be dangerous should blood poisoning set in. She was lying on the floor when the doctor reached her, for she thought that she had been shot through the abdomen. Dr. Ayer, however, discovered that the abdominal injury had been caused by a heavy blow, probably a kick. It is not dangerous.

Nakashima shot up from his mouth, the bullet entering at the junction of the soft and hard palates and then passing through the brain lifted a plate of bone over the right occipital. The bullet remained inside the skull.

The coroner's jury took evidence from the woman this afternoon, and then adjourned until Monday, no verdict being rendered.

MAUNAOULU SEMINARY ENROLLMENT SETS NEW EARLY TERM RECORD

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Sept. 15.—Maunaoulu seminary has opened its doors this year to the largest early enrollment of pupils in its history. Practically all the accommodations are now occupied and there is a strong probability of a waiting list.

Miss Eva L. Heuser, the principal, returned Saturday night from her only vacation this year, a week spent at the volcano. All summer the carpenter and painters have been putting Baldwin Hall into splendid repair and also making needed improvements. Mrs. Grace P. Haven has returned to her work after a year's leave of absence for study at Hartford, Conn., and in New York city. She also traveled widely in the States visiting friends and attending conventions. Miss Ruth H. Edmonds of Oberlin, Ohio, has taken the place of house mother and assistant to the principal.

NEW ORDINANCE FIXING GRADES IN MANOA READY

Big Step Will Be Taken Toward Completion of Paving Plans
at Meeting Tonight

Consisting of 48 typewritten pages, the ordinance relative to the location and establishment of center lines, curb lines and grades of all streets within Manoa improvement district No. 1, in Manoa valley, awaits its first reading tonight at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Deputy Clerk E. A. Biffandeau gasped when he gazed first at the ordinance this morning, he being the one delegated to read the reading when the board meets tonight.

The ordinance repeals Ordinance No. 62, and is much fuller and more in detail than is the other. According to City Purchasing Agent Botts the manuscript contains some 20,000 words, and will cost between $400 and $500 for printing.

"The difference between this ordinance and the one which it repeals," says City Engineer Whitehouse, "is that this one contains all the angles, grades, and lines, within itself. Formerly it has been the custom to refer to the grades, stating that they were such and such grades as found upon the grade map."

"By this plan," says the engineer, "we have the whole thing complete on the paper here, and do not need to refer to the map at all unless we want to. In other words, if the grade map should happen to be destroyed in some way we could get all of the lost information from this ordinance, and if the ordinance should be destroyed, we could get it from the map."

At the last meeting of the board of supervisors, the engineer was instructed to furnish data at earliest practicable date, for three improvement districts, namely, Sixth avenue and Ninth avenue, Kaimuki, and Kapaeha road, the last as a "main thoroughfare," to the making of which the city will contribute.

ALEXANDER HOUSE IS BUSY PREPARING FOR AUTUMN ACTIVITIES

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Sept. 15.—The opening of the fall activities at the Alexander House Settlement shows an increased interest on the part of the members and a more full and varied program than last year. Plans have been made by the head worker, Leslie R. Matthews, for classes for boys under 16 on Tuesday and Friday nights and for business men on Wednesday night. In addition to these classes there will be a woman's class Saturday afternoon.

The swimming tank has been thoroughly cleaned and is now being repainted, and it probably will be filled within a week. An innovation this year will be a night reserved for the use of the tank by married men accompanied by their wives and house guests.

Saturday morning will be reserved for the children's dancing class and swimming class. These classes, together with the adult dancing class, will start in October.

The kindergarten, under the management of Miss June Mitchell who recently arrived to take charge of this work, opened Monday with an enrollment of 45 children.

Final action on the question of permitting Sunday motion pictures on Maui has been postponed by the commissioners for a month.

LANSING IGNORES GRAPE JUICE IDEA AND SERVES WINE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Grape juice at diplomatic dinners given by the premier of the Wilson administration is a thing of the past. Robert Lansing, the new secretary of state, entertained in honor of Senor Cordoba, the Brazilian minister to Mexico. Grape juice was not in evidence, in spite of the precedent set by William J. Bryan. The wines usually served at official dinners were provided for the guests. "Wine will be served at all diplomatic dinners where the secretary is host," said Mrs. Lansing. "Mr. Lansing and I are not extremists in the advocacy of temperance."

Ah Won, the Chinese caught with opium in his possession at Pukoo, Molokai, and brought back to Honolulu this morning on the Claudine by Deputy Collector Otto A. Berndt, has waived preliminary examination before the United States commissioner, and his case is being held for action by the federal grand jury. Deputy Collector Berndt also brought back a small quantity of opium which the Chinese had in his possession when he was arrested.

TERRITORY WILL GET $165,000 AS RESULT OF CASE

A reserved question from Circuit Judge Stuart in the case of M. P. Robinson et al. trustees of the estate of S. C. Allen, and Lucy McWayne, against C. J. McCarthy, territorial treasurer, an action for recovery of inheritance tax, inquiring whether the defendant's demurrer to the complaint should be sustained by the court in face of the facts set forth, was answered in the affirmative in an opinion handed down by the supreme court today.

The action in Judge Stuart's court was begun with a view to recovering $3773.61 inheritance or succession tax paid the defendant on the portion of the residuary estate left by the late S. C. Allen, to which the petitioner, Lucy McWayne, succeeded by the terms of the will of the late Bathsheba M. Allen, wherein she exercised the power of appointment given her under the will of S. C. Allen.

The defendant objected to the complaint on the ground that it does not set forth facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action in that it shows upon its face, among other things, that Bathsheba M. Allen exercised the power of appointment contained in the will of S. C. Allen, and that such appointment having been exercised subsequent to April 28, 1909, the exercise of the power of appointment by the late Mrs. Allen is subject to the provisions of act 147, session laws of 1909.

The payment of the tax will mean about $165,000 to the territory, according to Attorney General I. M. Stainback, who was seen this morning following the rendering of the decision. "This is the largest sum of money ever due the territory from such a source," he said.

"This one case, while it represents only a little more than $9000, is one of nine or 10 cases included in the same issue, and their total will mean this large amount of money. We are naturally feeling good to think that the Supreme Court sustained us in the contention we held."

JOHN J. CARDEN, PIONEER, DIES; HEART TROUBLE

Father of Deputy City and County Attorney; First Came to Honolulu in 1880

John J. Carden, one of the best known residents of Honolulu, and father of W. T. Carden, second deputy city and county attorney, died at the family home, 1520 Fort street, shortly before noon today, death being due to heart trouble.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon, probably at 3 o'clock, from the residence. Mr. Carden is survived by a widow, a daughter, Mae Carden, and three sons, William, Thomas and John Carden.

Mr. Carden was a native of Canada and was 69 years of age. He came to Honolulu in 1880 from San Francisco, entering into business as a contractor. The greatest part of the brick work in the palace was done under his direction, and he also superintended the building of several of Honolulu's business blocks.

For several years he was employed as a foreman in the contracting firm of which the late George Lucas was the head. Mr. Carden also did considerable work at the Ewa and Wai-anae plantations, erecting the brick work which supports the boilers. It is reported that he was a heavy stockholder in both these plantations.
